

MEDIA RELEASE: 22nd December 2009

The very first hole in one has been sunk.
Tasmanian Golfer Chris Salmon has achieved the difficult task.
At the Sheep's Back hole on Fraser Range, Chris hit the Jackpot.

Here is Chris's description: to his mates back in Tasmania.

Hi Guys,

Well I hope the Alma Cottage Golfing Society, "Hole in One" insurance is fluid, as I happened to "Ace" today at "Sheep's Back", Fraser Range Station.

A mere 141m par 3, left to right breeze at 15 kms/hr, caressed a 6 iron, slightly to the left of the green, one bounce in the red dirt, followed by the 'obligatory', puff of dust. Slight kick to the right and onto the green, two bounces, hit the pin & into the hole!

Maybe the first hole in one for the Nullarbor Links, who knows???? It is my first "Hole in One" in my golfing career... approx 45 years. Very proud as you can appreciate.

Chris can be contacted by Email fishpen31@bigpond.com or by phone 0400 858 468.

End of Release
